It is understood that:

- The course listed above will follow an existing RC course outline.
- The distance learning mode of delivery will not adversely affect the enrollments on campus.
- Instructor is aware the course must be in compliance with requirements regarding EIT (Electronic and Information Technology) pursuant to Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act and provisions of California Government Code Section 11135.

What adjustments to the ways in which the course is delivered or presented to students will be necessary in order to offer it in the distance learning mode? (Add a second sheet if necessary to outline units in the course.)

The class will be taught from the Madera North Center to other sites via distance learning. Each site is electronically equipped with the necessary technical support to allow students at all sites to both hear and see what transpires during each class period.

The primary method of delivery will be through lectured power point presentations. There is some group work which can be easily accomplished at any of our sites.

What provisions will you make for regular effective contact between instructors and students?

Of course, during each class period students may confer with the instructor approximately 10 minutes prior and after each meeting. Besides this, students in the Madera class can physically meet during office hours with the instructor. Students at distant sites may contact the instructor by telephone or e-mail.

Assignments and tests will be sent through the school mail process.

What other pertinent information should be shared with the committee?

The enrollment at the Willow/International center is growing in the field of criminology. This mode offers those students the opportunity to access available classes in that field and to advance their opportunities at completing their degrees in criminology.
