2. identify cultural, economic, political, and historical contexts that impact children’s development (Met through readings, quizzes, observations, and final exam).
3. apply knowledge of development and major theoretical frameworks to child observations (Met through readings, quizzes, observations, and final exam).

Required Text:

- This is an Open Educational Resources (OER) course and does NOT have a textbook. Instead you will be assigned readings on Canvas.

Course Details:

1. There are two parts to every course you take: 1) class meetings/discussions and 2) out of class study/work time. This course is worth 3 units, which means that we will spend 3 hours together each week in class meetings/discussions and YOU should spend 6 hours a week studying the course materials and completing assignments outside of the classroom (study/work time).
2. PowerPoint presentations related to the text chapters can be found on Canvas. These presentations are provided to help you understand the information in the textbook. We will discuss some of the slides in these presentations during class meetings.
3. You have access to all of the course information that will be covered during class meetings, and all of the information to help you master this course. You can access this information using the online service Canvas. Most of your assignments will be completed and submitted on Canvas. To visit Canvas, simply click on the link under the “On-Line Services” tab on the Reedley College Webpage at www.reedleycollege.edu. You will need a computer or device that had internet capabilities to access Canvas. If you do not have one, you can use one of the computers in the RC Library.
4. Because we have a limited time together during class meetings, you need to understand that we will not be able to discuss everything during class meetings. If you need extra instruction come and visit me during my office hours.
