Course Description:

This course is designed as an introduction to this nation’s governmental institutions and political processes. It will have four major foci. First, we will be examining the theoretical and constitutional basis of the American political system. Second, we will examine the institutional structure of our national government--Congress, the Executive, and the Supreme Court. Third (to be divided into two sections), we will be focusing on how Americans seek to translate their political aspirations and beliefs into governmental policy--the meaning of elections, the significance of political parties and interest groups, and the role of public opinion in our political system as “policy inputs,” and what these factors mean to the character of foreign and domestic policy. Finally, we will review significant controversies that have contributed to our fundamental legal character (civil liberties and civil rights).

As specified in Reedley College’s course outline of record for this class, in the process of successfully completing this course, students will:

- Recognize the Constitutional processes and principles as they occur in modern U.S. and California politics,
- Identify the key elements in the formation of public policy, and relate how events can dictate governmental priorities, and
- Identify the impact of the media and public opinion in regard to elections, voting, and the development of public policy in the United States in California.

My goal in teaching this course is to help you develop some of the tools you can use, if you so choose, to play an active role in the politics of your day. What I expect from you (and what you will need to benefit from this course) is not necessarily a wealth of prior knowledge or experience in politics, but an open mind willing to look at familiar things in new ways, to question the assumptions that everyone else seems to blindly accept, and to be determined and persistent enough to think your way through your own conclusions.

Texts / Readings:

Required:

- Barbour and Wright, Keeping The Republic, 5th ed.
- Van Vechtin, California Politics: A Primer, 2nd ed.

Recommended:

- Collegiate dictionary
- a reputable newspaper or news magazine
- Writer’s style manual (includes APA format)
- recommendations may be announced

Basis for Evaluation:

Final grades will be based on the following table:

Point Range	Percentage	Final Grade
1000 – 900	100 – 90%	A
899 – 800	89 – 80%	B
799 – 700	79 – 70%	C
699 – 600	69 – 60%	D
599 and below	59% and below	F

Points will be earned through the following assessments, all of which are valued as indicated:

Assignment	Points Per Assignment	Total Points
4 California Quizzes	30	120 (12%)
1 U.S. Constitution Quiz	50	50 (5%)
4 Examinations	100	400 (40%)
Final Examination	150	150 (15%)
Critical Inquiry Paper	90	90 (9%)
Critical Analysis Paper	90	90 (9%)
Participation / Conduct	100	100 (10%)
TOTAL POINTS POSSIBLE		1000 (100%)

Assessment Tools:

California Quizzes

Students will take four quizzes on California politics throughout the term. All students will need a Scantron form 815 for all quizzes. Quizzes will consist of 10-15 multiple-choice questions taken from either lecture material or from your California textbook.

U.S. Constitution Quiz

Students will be required to take a quiz covering the content of the Constitution of the United States of America. A worksheet/study guide will be provided to help in preparing for this quiz. All students will need a Scantron form 882 for this quiz. Versions of this quiz can be taken up to three (3) times.

Examinations

There will be four 100-point examinations and a 150-point final examination. All students will need either a Scantron form 886-E OR a "Blue Book" for all examinations. In all cases, you will be given a choice in terms of the format of the examination. You may take examinations in any of the following formats:

- 1) all multiple choice (approximately 50 questions),
- 2) multiple choice and essay questions (approximately 30 multiple choice questions and 1 essay), or
- 3) all writing (approximately 6 term identifications, 3 short answer questions, and 1 essay).

Further instructions will be given as the first examination draws nearer.

MAKE-UP EXAMINATIONS WILL ONLY BE GIVEN UNDER SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES. Some official verification of the need to miss the exam will be required before a make-up exam is approved. If approved, a make-up examination must be completed within one week of the original date of administration.

Paper Assignments

There will be two papers due in this class worth 90 points each. Students MUST submit the first to be eligible for credit on the second as these are linked assignments.

For the first paper (Critical Inquiry), students are to visit the California Secretary of State's web site, choose one initiative that has qualified for an upcoming ballot or is currently in circulation, write a summary of that initiative, and submit THREE questions regarding the proposal.

For the second paper (Critical Analysis), students are to build upon their first papers by (a) refining their summaries (the first paper), and (b) answering the questions posed in the earlier paper.

All submissions MUST include in-text citations and a "References" page noting the materials used to craft the paper. All citations must be formatted according to American Psychological Association (APA) specifications. When submitted, these materials should be typed in 10 or 12-point font, double spaced, and have 1" margins. Students must use complete sentences and paragraphs in response to all questions. These materials will be graded primarily on content and completeness; however, a portion of your grade will be based on grammar, spelling, and presentation. PLEASE NOTE: PAPERS MUST BE SUBMITTED AT THE BEGINNING OF CLASS

ON THE DESIGNATED DUE DATE (5 minutes after class begins will be considered late), AND LATE MATERIALS WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED.

Participation / Conduct

Participation: An important part of the course is student participation. Everyone is strongly encouraged to ask questions and offer input regarding the subject matter at hand and relevant current events. At a minimum, a good way to ensure your ability to participate effectively in class discussions would be to take five to ten minutes prior to the class beginning and review your notes from the previous class. In addition, I reserve the right to call on students to respond to questions posed in class, so you should always be ready to answer. Attendance is obviously one measure of participation, and you will not do well in the course if you regularly miss class. Perfect attendance is best, and more than six hours of absences is too many. Be advised that I will drop any student who misses more than two weeks of instruction (cumulative but not necessarily consecutive) in a full term class, pursuant to the California Code of Regulations (5 CCR § 58004).

Conduct: A guaranteed way to lower your grade is to conduct yourself in an inappropriate manner in the classroom. Inappropriate behavior such as reading, talking, sleeping, writing letters, text messaging, etc., during class, or failure to treat everyone in the classroom with respect will affect your grade negatively. Those who practice such inappropriate behavior will likely be asked to leave the classroom, pursuant to California state law and the State Center Community College District's Student Code of Conduct standards (California Education Code § 76030-76033, SCCC Board Policy 5500, and SCCC Administrative Regulations 5500 and 5520, respectively). Cell phones, pagers, MP3 players, and all other miscellaneous electronic devices are to be turned OFF during class. Not only is a ringing cell phone distracting, disruptive, and annoying, it is rude and disrespectful. If it is imperative that your phone remain "on," please inform me prior to the start of class. If I agree that your situation requires that your phone remain "on," I will likely ask that you set your phone to "vibrate." On the days of exams, no technological devices will be allowed to be on. Failure to follow these instructions may lead to suspension from my class.

Cheating or instances of plagiarism are the most severe of conduct violations.

- Cheating is defined as "the willful and intentional practice of fraudulent and deceptive acts for the purposes of improving a grade or obtaining course credit." Cheating is NOT limited to examinations only. It includes any act in which you engage for the purposes of obtaining unearned academic credit. For further discussion of this concept, please refer to the Reedley College Catalog.
- Plagiarism is defined as "fraudulently representing someone else's writing or other scholarly material as your own." In other words, plagiarism is when you try to receive credit for someone else's work, including, but not limited to, any source you use for a paper or submitting a fellow student's homework while representing it as your own work. For further discussion of this concept, please refer to the Reedley College Catalog.

As these are the most severe of conduct violations, they will be met with the most extreme of consequences. Any student caught in one of these activities will (a) receive a 0 on the assignment/examination in question, (b) sacrifice all participation/conduct points available in this class, and (c) will not be eligible to earn any extra credit in the class. In short, such actions will be met with a penalty potentially in excess of 300 points—over three full letter grades—in the course.

Reading Assignments:

All reading assignments should be COMPLETED by the assigned date. This will facilitate your learning of the course material as well as your ability to participate in class discussions. Keep in mind, the readings and the lectures are intended to complement, not replace, one another. Some material covered in the lectures will not be covered in the text: conversely, information in the text may not be addressed directly in class. In a testing situation, you will be responsible for all assigned materials. If you have questions on any of the material, ASK!!! I want to help you learn about American politics and government, but your questions may not be answered unless you ask them. Also, always expect to answer questions in class based upon the assigned readings for that day.

Supplemental Instruction/Group Tutoring:

Beyond The Classroom (BTC) will be available to all students enrolled in this course who want to improve their understanding of class material. BTC is an academic support program offering free, regularly scheduled study sessions to students enrolled in historically difficult to pass courses.
