GRADING POLICY

60 points = 3 Quizzes (20 points each)

20 points = 2 Art Projects (10 points each)

10 Points = Critical Writing Assignment

10 Points = Weekly Discussions

100 points TOTAL

Grading Framework: A = 100-90 points, B = 89-80 points, C = 79-70 points, D = 69-60 points, F = 59-0 points.

QUIZ CHARACTERISTICS AND CONDITIONS

- The quizzes feature slides with multiple choice questions on the content of four chapters at a time.
- You may use your book, notes, lecture slides, and/or the Internet for reference while you take a quiz.
- Quizzes open on Monday and close on Friday at 11:59 pm. If you miss a scheduled quiz deadline, you can still take it until the end of the summer session. However, because of the tardiness, you will only be able to earn up to 70% of the points (The "70% rule").

- Due to the generous window of time quizzes are open, the 70% rule will be imposed on any quiz submitted after a quiz deadline (except in the case of a very strong illness or a medical or dental procedure, which requires a note from a doctor that specifies the duration and degree to which you were incapacitated. If the note does not include this information, the instructor reserves the right to reject the note, and the 70% rule will still be in operation).
- You will sign into Canvas and take the quizzes there, according to the Quiz Schedule below. Each quiz is timed and will take 60 minutes to complete. After the 60th minute, the quiz will close, and your score will be recorded in the course grading center.
- Moreover, part of taking an online class is having the tools to take the class. It assumes you have access to a reliable computer or digital device with a reliable Internet connection. Not having access to these items would be like a student trying to take a painting class, but the student refuses to acquire the paints, the canvas, and the brushes. That stated, there are no retake opportunities in the case of technological failure of any kind during the middle of a quiz. You must begin every quiz on a reliable digital device with a reliable Internet connection. All requests to re-take or make-up a quiz will be denied.

QUIZ SCHEDULE

Quizzes open on Monday at 8 am and close on Friday at 11:59 pm. You will have 1 hour to complete a quiz.

Quiz 1 (Chapters 1 through 4. 5 questions from each chapter. 1 point per question). 9/19 – 9/23.

Quiz 2 (Chapters 5 through 8. 5 questions from each chapter. 1 point per question). 10/17 – 10/21.

Quiz 3 (Chapters 9 through 12. 5 questions from each chapter. 1 point per question). 11/28 – 12/2.

REQUIRED ART PROJECTS

Project 1: Digital Photograph (Cell Phone or Digital Camera). Assignment sheet.

Project 2: Collage. Assignment sheet.

ART PROJECT EVALUATION

Students will be responsible for creating two art projects. The projects will interact with ideas covered in the textbook.

I will assign a project and a due date. Excellent projects will thoroughly engage the terms described on the assignment sheet and rubric, which will contain clear step-by-step outlines for each project in the class. You may not leave parts out because they do not suit you or you would rather not deal with them. Doing so will have an adverse effect on your grade. My interest is to see how you handle the complexity of the assigned project and how thoroughly you interact with the challenges therein.

We will conduct a critique of your response to the assigned problem. In the discussion, you will be invited to present the project to the class, explain how you interacted with the challenges of the assignment while using appropriate terminology from the textbook, and articulate the strengths and/or weaknesses of your efforts.

CRITICAL WRITING ASSIGNMENT (FINAL)

The writing assignment and guidelines are available here: Art Writing Prompts, Requirements, and Grading Criteria.

Students must abide by the rules therein.

Plagiarism will NOT be tolerated and will result in a failing grade and expulsion from the class.

The writing must be submitted on Canvas within the assignment text box, or as a Word or PDF attachment.

Submission Deadline: Please submit your work during Finals Week between Monday at 8 am and Friday at 11:59 pm.

WEEKLY DISCUSSIONS

Students will participate in weekly discussions located in the “Discussions” area of the course Canvas site. Our discussions will be the participation component of the class. A discussion will feature prompts that relate to the course readings, lectures, tutorials, and your art projects. This is one of the most exciting areas of the course because it gives us the opportunity to ask questions for clarification, investigate the course content more rigorously, offer our different viewpoints and perspectives, and provide feedback on artworks in progress or finished works.

DISCUSSION DEADLINES

Each week, the instructor will post a discussion on Monday at 8 a.m. The session will remain open until Friday at 11:59 p.m. At that point Canvas will close the discussion, and late responses will not be accepted. Not responding counts as an absence. No absence will be excused unless the instructor receives a note from a medical professional that precisely verifies the time missed and designates the reason for the absence.

METHODS OF RESPONSE

Students may respond to a discussion in any of the following ways:

1. in writing.
2. by posting an audio recording of your thoughts (mp3 files are preferred).
3. with a vlog (please provide a link to YouTube).

A variation of the last option can be a video screen capture with a voice over, which can be helpful when discussing projects.

PARTICIPATION POINTS

There are a total of 100 points available in the course. Participation in discussions accounts for 10 points of your overall grade. You will begin the semester with those 10 participation points and can protect them by contributing to each weekly discussion.

Not partaking in a discussion will reduce your overall Discussions participation score by 2 points. (If a student loses all 10 points through non-participation, no further points will be lost).

PHILOSOPHY OF CONDUCT

The classroom is a special environment where students and faculty have the opportunity to collaborate, learn, and grow. It is essential to maintain a positive learning atmosphere that enables everyone to focus on learning. Class participants should adopt a formal, engaged, and enthusiastic attitude towards the subject matter while discussing topics with interlocutors. Whether written asynchronously or spoken in real-time, students should use clear, honest, compassionate, and inclusive forms of communication and dialogue so that our interactions maximize the growth and success of everyone in the course.

STUDENT-TO-STUDENT INTERACTION

It is essential to our learning environment that the rights of others seeking to learn are maintained. Viewpoints should be expressed in ways that are supportive of the learning process, creating an environment where students reason with clarity and compassion, share of themselves without losing their identities, and develop a broader understanding of the community in which they live.

STUDENT-TO-TEACHER INTERACTION

It is essential to our learning environment that the professionalism of the instructor and the general goals of academic freedom are respected. Students are expected to demonstrate respect for the instructor, the course content, and themselves through all forms of communication. All Canvas and e-mail student-to-teacher interaction should be presented with a polite, patient, and professional demeanor.

ACADEMIC HONESTY

It is essential to student growth that each individual complete his/her/their own work in this course. Cheating is the actual or attempted practice of fraudulent or deceptive acts for the purpose of improving one's grade, obtaining course credit, or assisting another to do so. Such acts typically relate to examinations, writings, or projects, but can include any aspect of the course where credit is earned. Plagiarism is a specific form of cheating which consists of the misuse of the published and/or unpublished works of others by misrepresenting the material (i.e., their intellectual property) so used as one's own work. Cheating and plagiarism may result in an F for the course.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION

If you have a documented need for an academic accommodation (E.g., recording devices, assistance with note-taking, extended time for examination, etc.) as per the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 or Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act (Rehab Act) of 1973, please inform me as soon as possible. The ADA and Rehab Act mandate that students with learning, physical, or other types of disabilities receive services to allow an equal experience in education. It is the student's responsibility to contact the Disabled Student Services Office to request Academic Accommodation. Documentation must be presented before accommodation can be provided. This paperwork should be provided to the instructor as soon as possible. For assistance on writing and other tutoring, please visit the Reedley College tutoring services page.

ADDING AND DROPPING CLASSES

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures on adding/dropping classes, academic renewals, etc. It is the student's responsibility to drop the course before the deadline (Oct 7), letter grades assigned after this date).

LATE WORK POLICY

Any project that is turned in tardy will receive no greater than a C (7 out of 10 points).
