PARTICIPATION / ATTENDANCE

Participation is KEY in an online learning environment! As such, your participation score will be based on several factors, including weekly check-ins, discussion board responses, homework and test submissions.

- Students will be dropped from this course as a “no-show” if the initial student introduction assignment is not submitted on time, (by the end of Week 1).
- If you decide to drop the course at any time throughout the semester, it is your responsibility to make the drop official in the Admissions and Records office or else possibly receive a failing grade.

Saturday, July 9th is the final drop date for this course!

LATE WORK / TESTS

It is very important that you pay close attention to all posted due dates as I do not allow late work of any kind. There are no make-ups for missed assignments, tests or quizzes. However, if you foresee an unavoidable situation on an upcoming test date, you may arrange to take the test early. Please contact me to discuss your specific situation.

ADA COMPLIANCE

If you have special needs as addressed by the Americans with Disabilities (ADA) act including alternate media requests, please notify your course instructor immediately. Reasonable efforts will be made to accommodate your special needs.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

- ❖ Students at Reedley College are entitled to the best education that the college can make available to them, and they, their instructors, and their fellow students share the responsibility to ensure that this education is honestly attained. Because cheating, plagiarism, and collusion in dishonest activities erode the integrity of the college, each student is expected to exert an entirely honest effort in all academic endeavors. Academic dishonesty in any form is a very serious offense and will incur serious consequences.
- ❖ CHEATING is the act or attempted act of taking an examination or performing an assigned, evaluated task in a fraudulent or deceptive manner, such as having improper access to answers, in an attempt to gain an unearned academic advantage. Cheating may include, but is not limited to, copying from another's work, supplying one's work to another, giving or receiving copies of examinations without an instructor's permission, using or displaying notes or devices inappropriate to the conditions of the examination, allowing someone other than the officially enrolled student to represent the student, or failing to disclose research results completely.
- ❖ If you are caught cheating on an assignment, everyone involved will receive zero points on that assignment. Cheating, in this class, is handing in the same assignment as another student as if it was your own.
- ❖ PLAGIARISM is a specific form of cheating: the use of another's words or ideas without identifying them as such or giving credit to the source. Plagiarism may include, but is not limited to, failing to provide complete citations and references for all work that draws on the ideas, words, or work of others, failing to identify the contributors to work done in collaboration, submitting duplicate work to be evaluated in different courses without the knowledge and consent of the instructors involved, or failing to observe computer security systems and software copyrights.
- ❖ Incidents of cheating and plagiarism may result in any of a variety of sanctions and penalties, which may range from a failing grade on a particular examination, paper, project, or assignment in question to a failing grade in the course, at the discretion of the instructor.
